Markets — Third Down Day Into a Two-Print, Two-Earnings Docket

WEDNESDAY’S CASH SESSION EXTENDED THE POST-PAYROLLS FADE INTO A THIRD CONSECUTIVE DOWN DAY FOR THE MAJOR US INDEXES PER CNBC COVERAGE — SPY CLOSED $762.40 (↓0.46%), NASDAQ (QQQ) $716.31 (↓0.29%), DOW (DIA) $524.07 (↓0.75%), AND RUSSELL 2000 (IWM) $290.64 (↓1.37%) PER DATA DROP — WITH THE 10-YEAR US TREASURY YIELD REACHING APPROXIMATELY 4.84% (HIGHEST SINCE OCTOBER 2023 PER CNN AND INVESTING.COM COVERAGE) AFTER THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT’S $6 BILLION BUYBACK ANNOUNCEMENT FELL SHORT OF THE $7 BILLION TO $10 BILLION SOME SELL-SIDE DESKS HAD EXPECTED, AND BRENT TRADING ABOVE $100 PER BARREL PER TRADING ECONOMICS COVERAGE OF THE WEDNESDAY OVERNIGHT TAPE

Per data drop, Wednesday’s cash session closed with SPY at $762.40 (↓0.46%), QQQ at $716.31 (↓0.29%), DIA at $524.07 (↓0.75%), IWM at $290.64 (↓1.37%), and UVXY (VIX proxy) at $18.38 (↑2.51%). Per CNBC coverage of the Wednesday tape, this marked the third consecutive down day for the Dow, S&P 500, and Nasdaq. Per CNN and Investing.com coverage, the 10-year US Treasury yield reached its highest closing level since October 2023 near 4.84% after the US Treasury Department announced a buyback of up to $6 billion in longer-dated bonds — a size that reportedly disappointed some sell-side participants who had modeled a $7 billion to $10 billion operation, though Treasury saw very strong demand at a $39 billion 10-year note auction with bid-to-cover reportedly reaching 2.71 times, the strongest since 2019. Per Trading Economics coverage of the Wednesday overnight tape, Brent crude traded near $101 per barrel with the WTI proxy USO closing ↑2.70% at $149.97 and Brent proxy BNO ↑2.75% at $59.32. Per data drop sentiment field, the CNN Fear & Greed reading of 69 “Greed” reflects the CNN endpoint falling back to the crypto Fear-and-Greed index; per MacroMicro coverage of the CNN stock-market read, the actual CNN Fear & Greed sits near approximately 39 “Fear” following the ongoing yield-and-oil compound.

THE SECTOR COMPOSITION ON WEDNESDAY READ AS A CLEAN RATE-AND-OIL-SENSITIVE FADE AGAINST A PHYSICAL-SUPPLY BID — ENERGY (XLE ↑0.83%) WAS THE SOLE GREEN SECTOR WITH TECH (XLK 0.00%) FLAT, HEALTHCARE (XLV ↓0.33%) AND FINANCIALS (XLF ↓0.42%) TRIMMING MODESTLY WHILE CYCLICALS-AND-RATE-SENSITIVES LED THE FADE THROUGH INDUSTRIALS (XLI ↓1.51%), DISCRETIONARY (XLY ↓1.34%), UTILITIES (XLU ↓1.17%), STAPLES (XLP ↓1.15%), AND REAL ESTATE (XLRE ↓1.12%) PER DATA DROP; FCI TOP MOVERS — MRVL ↑4.26%, AMD ↑3.04%, CVX ↑1.91%, QCOM ↑1.33%, GPC ↑0.88% PER DATA DROP — CONCENTRATED IN THE AI-OPTICS, AI-COMPUTE, ENERGY, AND CHIP-DEAL LAYERS, WHILE SOFI ↓3.78%, HUT ↓3.59%, EIX ↓3.19% (LARGELY REVERSING TUESDAY'S ↑4.51% BID), SPGI ↓2.55%, AND NOW ↓2.31% LED THE BOTTOM GROUP

Per data drop sector map, XLE closed ↑0.83% as the sole green sector on the oil bid, XLK closed flat at 0.00%; the fade extended through XLV (↓0.33%), XLF (↓0.42%), XLC (↓0.62%), XLB (↓1.06%), XLRE (↓1.12%), XLP (↓1.15%), XLU (↓1.17%), XLY (↓1.34%), and XLI (↓1.51%). Per data drop top-movers, MRVL closed ↑4.26% at $235.01, AMD ↑3.04% at $521.10, CVX ↑1.91% at $213.81, QCOM ↑1.33% at $176.40, and GPC ↑0.88% at $135.24. Per Yahoo Finance coverage carried in the data drop holdings news, MRVL is targeting approximately $18 billion in revenue as AI networking and optics fuel growth, QCOM's $60 billion deal disclosure per Yahoo Finance coverage extended the sell-side read on the post-smartphone opportunity, and CVX drew coverage of a 52-week high alongside COP and VLO per Yahoo Finance. Per data drop bottom-movers, SOFI closed ↓3.78% at $17.33 with Yahoo Finance coverage tying the session to the tokenized-stocks pushback from AMC and the Kraken-tie-up read, HUT (↓3.59% at $95.92) faded following Tuesday's ↑6.36% print, EIX closed ↓3.19% at $57.44 (largely reversing Tuesday's ↑4.51% wildfire-liability-bid at $59.33 per prior brief), SPGI (↓2.55% at $418.36) traded lower alongside Yahoo Finance coverage of the index restructuring and Accenture read, and NOW closed ↓2.31% at $131.11. For FCI positioning, the composition — an AI-networking-and-compute plus energy sleeve carrying the tape against a cyclicals-and-rate-sensitive fade with the utility bid fully reversing intraday — keeps the Growth-Hybrid physical-AI-infrastructure axis reading through the intersection of the ORCL and ADBE prints after the close today, PPI at 8:30, and CPI Friday.

A three-session sequence that resolves the payrolls reset into a 10-year yield at cycle highs against a Brent bid above $100 and a two-print-plus-two-earnings docket tends to keep the physical-AI-infrastructure and energy sleeves reading through the compound rather than break the thesis.

Geopolitics — Iran Axis Extends: CBS and Reuters Report Multiple US Military Aircraft Damaged in Overnight Strikes on the Jordan Air Base; President Trump Publicly Warned Tehran Against Provocative Moves Around Iran's Pickaxe Mountain Facility Per Reuters and Publicly Predicted the War Will End After the November 3 Midterms Per Times of Israel and Reuters; Houthi Forces Are Reportedly Closing In on a Stranglehold Over the Bab el-Mandeb Strait Per Reuters — and Hormuz Shipping Traffic Reportedly Sits in the Single Digits Per Reuters — With Brent Trading Above $100 Per Trading Economics; Canada's Counter-Tariffs Remain Live in Their Third Day Per Finance Canada

IRAN AXIS: PER CBS NEWS COVERAGE CITED BY REUTERS AND CARRIED IN THE DATA DROP HEADLINES, MULTIPLE US MILITARY AIRCRAFT REPORTEDLY SUFFERED DAMAGE IN OVERNIGHT STRIKES ON THE US AIR BASE IN JORDAN — AN ESCALATION BEYOND TUESDAY'S REPORTED IRAN ATTACK ON THE SAME BASE — AND PER REUTERS COVERAGE CARRIED IN THE DATA DROP HEADLINES, IRAN-BACKED HOUTHİ FORCES ARE REPORTEDLY CLOSING IN ON A STRANGLEHOLD OVER THE BAB EL-MANDEB STRAIT WHILE STRAIT OF HORMUZ SHIPPING TRAFFIC REPORTEDLY SITS IN THE SINGLE DIGITS; PER REUTERS COVERAGE ALSO CARRIED IN THE DATA DROP, PRESIDENT TRUMP PUBLICLY SAID ACTIVITY WAS SEEN AT IRAN'S PICKAXE MOUNTAIN FACILITY AND PUBLICLY WARNED TEHRAN AGAINST PROVOCATIVE ACTIONS, WITH BRENT TRADING ABOVE $100 PER BARREL PER TRADING ECONOMICS COVERAGE

Per CBS News coverage cited by Reuters and carried in the data drop headlines, multiple US military aircraft reportedly suffered damage in overnight strikes on the US air base in Jordan, extending the direct-strike compound beyond the earlier reported Iran attack on the same facility per prior brief coverage. Per Reuters coverage carried in the data drop headlines, Iran-backed Houthi forces are reportedly closing in on a stranglehold over the strategically important Bab el-Mandeb Strait — the southern chokepoint at the mouth of the Red Sea — while separate Reuters coverage carried in the data drop headlines reports that shipping traffic through the Strait of Hormuz sits in the single digits, materially below normal transit levels. Per additional Reuters coverage carried in the data drop headlines, President Trump publicly said activity was seen at Iran's Pickaxe Mountain facility and publicly warned Tehran against provocative actions, and per Times of Israel and Reuters coverage Trump publicly predicted the war with Iran will end after the November 3 US midterm elections. Per Reuters coverage of a separate exclusive, a billion-dollar sanctions dodge reportedly kept Chinese goods flowing to Iran despite the sanctions regime. Per Trading Economics coverage of the Wednesday overnight tape, Brent traded above \$100 per barrel, and per data drop the WTI proxy USO closed $\uparrow 2.70\%$ at \$149.97 with Brent proxy BNO $\uparrow 2.75\%$ at \$59.32. For FCI positioning, the composition — a broader Iran-side kinetic compound now including a second reported strike on the Jordan air base with US aircraft damage, a Bab el-Mandeb chokepoint escalation on top of the Hormuz slowdown, and a public threat framing on the Pickaxe Mountain facility — keeps the FCI energy sleeve (CVX Wed $\uparrow 1.91\%$ at \$213.81 per data drop, CNX, OKE) reading directly through the intersection of the physical-supply premium, the Iran-side kinetic variable, and the rate-path repricing.

TRADE AXIS: CANADA'S RETALIATORY COUNTER-TARIFFS REMAIN LIVE IN THEIR THIRD DAY PER FINANCE CANADA'S SEPTEMBER 8 EFFECTIVE SCHEDULE — THE APPROXIMATELY C\$27.6 BILLION (~\$19.94 BILLION) PACKAGE APPLIES 15%, 25%, AND 50% DUTIES ACROSS APPROXIMATELY 700 PRODUCT LINES INCLUDING STEEL (50%), DAIRY, APPLIANCES, AND AGRICULTURAL EQUIPMENT; STLD CLOSED WEDNESDAY AT \$240.69 ($\uparrow 0.16\%$), CAT AT \$815.56 ($\downarrow 0.84\%$), FAST AT \$48.79 ($\downarrow 1.19\%$), AND PCAR AT \$121.88 ($\downarrow 0.51\%$) PER DATA DROP; AND PER BENZINGA COVERAGE CARRIED IN THE DATA DROP HOLDINGS NEWS, A GOP SENATOR PUBLICLY PUSHED BACK AFTER PRESIDENT TRUMP REPORTEDLY THREATENED TO BAN BOMBARDIER SALES IN

THE US, FRAMING THE CROSS-BORDER TRADE TENSION AS ONGOING AT THE CONGRESSIONAL LEVEL

Per Finance Canada's September 8 effective schedule and prior Al Jazeera and Reuters coverage, Canada's retaliatory counter-tariffs on approximately C\$27.6 billion of US goods remain live in their third day, applying duties of 15%, 25%, and 50% across roughly 700 product lines with steel and aluminum at 50% dollar-for-dollar with the corresponding US rates. Per data drop, STLD closed Wednesday at \$240.69 ($\uparrow 0.16\%$), CAT at \$815.56 ($\downarrow 0.84\%$), FAST at \$48.79 ($\downarrow 1.19\%$), and PCAR at \$121.88 ($\downarrow 0.51\%$). Per Benzinga coverage carried in the data drop holdings news, a GOP Senator publicly pushed back after President Trump reportedly threatened to ban Bombardier sales in the US, publicly stating that the Canadian aircraft maker must continue to grow and create American jobs. For FCI positioning, the composition — a live cross-border counter-tariff schedule in its third day sitting alongside the oil bid and the PPI-and-CPI window — keeps the Dividend-Strategy names with US-Canada supply chains (STLD, CAT, FAST, PCAR) reading through the intersection of the tariff pass-through variable, the rate-path repricing, and the September 15–16 FOMC.

UKRAINE AXIS: PER FORBES AND KYIV POST COVERAGE OF THE SEPTEMBER 9 OVERNIGHT TAPE, RUSSIA REPORTEDLY LAUNCHED APPROXIMATELY 166 DRONES AND 32 CRUISE MISSILES AT UKRAINE FOLLOWING THE WITKOFF-KUSHNER DIPLOMATIC ROUND, AND PER VATICAN NEWS COVERAGE RUSSIA REPORTEDLY LEFT THE DOOR OPEN TO NEW UKRAINE PEACE TALKS; THE DIPLOMATIC CORRIDOR REMAINS FORMALLY ACTIVE WITH ADDITIONAL TRILATERAL TALKS REPORTEDLY BEING SCHEDULED PER PRIOR CNN AND THE HILL COVERAGE, THOUGH THE KINETIC TEMPO

CONTINUES TO EXTEND — THE COMPOSITION KEEPS THE UKRAINE AXIS AS AN ACTIVE BUT NON-DOMINANT REPRICING VARIABLE BEHIND THE IRAN COMPLEX SITTING AT THE FRONT OF THE BOOK

Per Forbes coverage of the September 9 overnight tape and Kyiv Post coverage, Russia reportedly launched approximately 166 drones, 32 cruise missiles, and an unspecified number of anti-ship and ballistic missiles at Ukraine, extending the kinetic tempo following the Witkoff-Kushner diplomatic sequence. Per Vatican News coverage, Russia reportedly left the door open to new Ukraine peace talks, and per prior CNN and The Hill coverage the US envoys publicly framed the discussions as productive with additional trilateral talks reportedly being scheduled. For FCI positioning, the composition — a formal diplomatic corridor still active against a continued kinetic track — keeps the Ukraine axis as an active but non-dominant repricing variable behind the Iran complex sitting at the front of the book heading into the PPI print and ECB decision this morning.

SECTION 03

On Our Radar

1. August PPI Publishes at 8:30 AM ET Per the BLS Release Schedule — The Last Direct Producer-Side Inflation Read Ahead of the September 15–16 FOMC — With the ECB Rate Decision at 8:15 AM ET (2:15 PM CEST) the Same Morning Per FXStreet Coverage: Per Reuters Poll Coverage Cited by CNBC and Euronews of the September 10 Meeting Preview, the ECB Is Widely Expected to Raise Its Deposit Rate by 25 Basis Points to 2.50% With All 65 Economists Surveyed Predicting the Hike; Per July's BLS Release, PPI Final Demand Was Unchanged Month-Over-Month and Ran +4.7% Year-Over-Year, and per Prediction-Market Coverage Cited on Lines.com the Odds Approximate 61% for a $\geq 5.1\%$ August YoY Read. Per BLS release schedule, the August PPI news release publishes Thursday September 10 at 8:30 AM ET, sequencing the last direct producer-side inflation read ahead of the September 15–16 FOMC. Per July's BLS release, the PPI final-demand index was unchanged month-over-month with services $\uparrow 0.2\%$ and goods $\downarrow 0.7\%$, and the 12-month change ran approximately $+4.7\%$. Per Lines.com prediction-market coverage, the market-implied probability of an August PPI YoY reading of 5.1% or higher approximates 61%. Per FXStreet and CNBC coverage of the ECB, the Governing Council announces its rate decision Thursday September 10 at 2:15 PM CEST (8:15 AM ET) with President Lagarde's press conference following, and per Reuters poll coverage cited by CNBC and Euronews, all 65 economists surveyed expect a 25 basis-point hike to a 2.50% deposit rate, marking a second consecutive hike tied to Eurozone inflation reportedly accelerating to 3.3% in August driven largely by the energy channel. For FCI positioning, the composition — a US producer-inflation print at 8:30 AM ET, an ECB hike widely priced within fifteen minutes prior, and the FOMC quiet period running through Thursday September 17 — concentrates the transatlantic rate-path repricing risk into a single pre-open window ahead of the August CPI print Friday.

2. Oracle (ORCL) Fiscal Q1 2027 Earnings Land After the Close Today (Thursday September 10) Per Oracle Investor Relations — With Adobe (ADBE) Fiscal Q3 Earnings Also After the Close per Yahoo Finance Coverage — Sequencing Two Marquee Software Prints Into the Same PPI-and-ECB Window; Analyst Consensus for ORCL Approximates $19.13–$19.14 Billion Revenue and $1.30–$1.74 EPS Per Investing.com and Moomoo Coverage, With Sell-Side Focus Per Traderc.com Coverage Reporting an Options-Implied Move Near 11%; ORCL's Guidance Framework Points to Q1 FY2027 Total Revenue Growth of 27–29% and Cloud Revenue Growth of 57–63% in Constant Currency Against the $638 Billion RPO Backlog Per Oracle's June

Press Release — And per Data Drop, ADBE Fiscal Q3 Consensus Approximates $6.20 EPS with Yahoo Finance Coverage

Framing the Print as a Potential Sharp Mover. Per Oracle Investor Relations coverage of the September 10 release, Oracle will host a conference call at 4:00 PM CT following the after-close print. Per Moomoo, Investing.com, and Traders.com coverage, analyst consensus approximates revenue near $19.13–$19.14 billion with EPS estimates in the $1.30–$1.74 range across sources, and the options-implied move approximates 11%. Per prior Yahoo Finance and Barron's coverage, sell-side focus centers on the sustainability of Oracle Cloud Infrastructure growth, the AI-related contract pipeline, capacity constraints against the $638 billion remaining performance obligations backlog reported at year-end, and the pace of realized revenue conversion. Per data drop earnings-today list, ADBE fiscal Q3 estimates approximate $6.20 EPS with Yahoo Finance coverage framing the print as potentially a sharp mover. For FCI positioning, ORCL is not a direct holding but the print reads as a key incremental data point for the physical-AI-infrastructure axis (AMD Wed ↑3.04% at $521.10 per data drop, MRVL ↑4.26% at $235.01, LRCX ↓1.43% at $315.84, CRDO ↑0.10% at $167.92, TSM ↓0.83% at $435.36, NVDA ↓0.91% at $223.67), the independent-power complex (CEG Wed ↓1.72% at $293.90, VST ↓0.41% at $151.10), and the AI-adjacent power-and-utility bid alongside the CPI print Friday.

3. 10-Year US Treasury Yield Reached Approximately 4.84% Wednesday, the Highest Closing Level Since October 2023 Per CNN and Investing.com Coverage, After the US Treasury Department's Announcement of a $6 Billion Buyback of 10- to 20-Year Bonds Reportedly Fell Short of the $7 Billion to $10 Billion Some Sell-Side Desks Had Modeled Per CNN and IndexBox Coverage; Yields Reportedly Retreated From the Highs After a $39 Billion 10-Year Note Auction Drew Bid-to-Cover of 2.71 Times, the Highest Since 2019 Per CNN Coverage — The Yield Reset Extends the Post-Payrolls Reprice and Sits Directly Alongside the PPI-and-CPI Sequence, With CME FedWatch September Hike Odds Sitting Near Approximately 58–65% Per CNBC, Growbeansprout, and Polymarket Coverage. Per CNN, Investing.com, and IndexBox coverage of the Wednesday session, the 10-year US Treasury yield reached its highest closing level since October 2023 at approximately 4.84% after the US Treasury Department announced a buyback operation of up to $6 billion in 10- to 20-year Treasury bonds — a size some sell-side participants reportedly viewed as smaller than the $7 billion to $10 billion range they had modeled. Per CNN coverage, yields retreated from their highs later in the session as a $39 billion 10-year note auction drew a bid-to-cover of approximately 2.71 times, the strongest reading since 2019. Per data drop, TLT (20Y Bond proxy) closed ↓0.57% at $81.73. Per CNBC, Growbeansprout, Kalshi, and Polymarket coverage, CME FedWatch September hike probabilities sit in a range near approximately 58–65% following the Friday hot-payrolls print, and per Federal Reserve communications policy the FOMC quiet period runs through Thursday September 17. For FCI positioning, the composition — a 10-year yield at cycle highs against a mixed underlying demand signal into the PPI-and-CPI window — keeps the rate-path variable actively repricing into the September 15–16 FOMC decision.

4. Digital-Asset Sleeve — Per Fortune Coverage of the Wednesday PM Bitcoin Tape, Bitcoin Traded Near Approximately $78,137 in the Evening Hours, Extending the Sub-$80,000 Range Ahead of Friday's August CPI Print; IBIT Closed Wednesday at $44.29 (↓0.23%) and ETHA at $18.58 (↓0.75%) Per Data Drop — A Modest Fade Against the Broader Rate-Repricing Backdrop; Per Yahoo Finance Coverage Carried in the Data Drop Holdings News, Crypto Mining Names Diverged Higher Intraday (a Yahoo Headline Cited MARA Climbing ~6% and Cipher Mining Jumping ~8% During the Session) Though the Data Drop Close for MARA Shows ↑0.76% at $11.92 With HUT (FCI Growth-Hybrid) Fading ↓3.59% at $95.92 Following Tuesday's ↑6.36% Print — The Composition Keeps the Complex Reading Through the Rate-Path Reset

Into the CPI Window. Per Fortune coverage of the Wednesday PM Bitcoin tape, Bitcoin traded near approximately $78,137 in the evening hours, extending the sub-$80,000 range from Tuesday. Per data drop, IBIT closed Wednesday at $44.29 (↓0.23%) and ETHA at $18.58 (↓0.75%). Per Yahoo Finance coverage carried in the data drop holdings news, crypto mining names diverged higher intraday with a headline noting MARA climbing approximately 6% and Cipher Mining jumping approximately 8% during the session even as Bitcoin slipped; the data drop close for MARA shows ↑0.76% at $11.92, indicating the intraday move gave back into the close. Per data drop, HUT closed ↓3.59% at $95.92 after Tuesday's ↑6.36% print. For FCI positioning, the composition — a Digital-Asset sleeve continuing to absorb the yield-and-hike reprice while the miner layer diverges intraday — keeps IBIT and ETHA reading through the intersection of the September hike distribution, the Fed quiet period, and the Friday CPI print.

5. AI-Chip-and-Deal Layer Extended Wednesday — Per Data Drop, MRVL Closed ↑4.26% at $235.01 With Yahoo Finance Coverage Reporting MRVL Targeting Approximately $18 Billion in Revenue as AI Networking and Optics Fuel Growth; AMD Closed ↑3.04% at $521.10 Alongside Yahoo Finance Coverage of a Dow-Jones-Futures-Rise Framing Tied to Inflation-Data Positioning; QCOM Closed ↑1.33% at $176.40 With Yahoo Finance Coverage Reporting a $60 Billion Deal Reveal of “What Comes After Smartphones” and Framing QCOM as the Overlooked Chip Stock Poised to Outperform Nvidia, AMD, and Broadcom in the AI Semiconductor Boom — The Composition Continues to Read Through the Physical-AI-Infrastructure Thesis Directly Into the ORCL Print AMC.

Per data drop top-movers, MRVL closed Wednesday at $235.01 (↑4.26%), AMD at $521.10 (↑3.04%), and QCOM at $176.40 (↑1.33%). Per Yahoo Finance coverage carried in the data drop holdings news, MRVL is reportedly targeting approximately $18 billion in revenue as AI networking and optics fuel growth, QCOM disclosed a $60 billion deal per Yahoo coverage framing it as a post-smartphone opportunity, and additional Yahoo Finance coverage framed QCOM as the overlooked chip stock poised to outperform Nvidia, AMD, and Broadcom in the AI semiconductor boom. Per data drop holdings news, NVDA (Wed ↓0.91% at $223.67) drew Yahoo Finance coverage of Director Mark Stevens reportedly selling approximately $640 million in NVDA stock amid AI-testing-capacity strain framing, and NXPI drew SeekingAlpha coverage of its Goldman Sachs Communacopia + Technology Conference 2026 presentation. For FCI positioning, the composition — AI networking (MRVL), AI compute (AMD), and post-smartphone chip-deal (QCOM) all extending against a broadly red tape — keeps the Growth-Hybrid physical-AI-infrastructure axis reading directly into the ORCL print after the close today.

6. Carson’s SPY $645.80 Support Remains Active — Wednesday’s $760.94 Intraday Low Left Carson’s Level Untouched, With the $645.80 Level Sitting Approximately 15.3% Below the SPY $762.40 Cash Close Per Data Drop; No Active Resistance Levels Are on the Book Following the April 14 Major-Zone Breakout of $691.90–$693.20. The Data-Drop Fear & Greed Reading of 69 “Greed” Reflects the CNN Endpoint Falling Back to the Crypto Fear-and-Greed Index — Per MacroMicro Coverage of the CNN Stock-Market Read, Treat the Actual CNN Read as Approximately 39 “Fear” for This Brief Following Three Consecutive Down Sessions and the Yield-and-Oil Compound; the Xi Washington State Visit September 24 Sits Fourteen Calendar Days From Today Per Prior CSIS Coverage.

remained untouched through Wednesday’s $760.94–$764.47 SPY intraday range per data drop and sits approximately 15.3% below the last cash close at $762.40. No active resistance levels are on the book following the April 14 breakout of the $691.90–$693.20 major zone (both hit that session). With PPI at 8:30 AM ET today, the ECB decision at 8:15 AM ET, ORCL and ADBE reporting after the close, August CPI Friday, and the September 15–16 FOMC decision five sessions from today, the pre-committed FCI deployment discipline (70% of reserves at –25% drawdown, remaining 30% at –40%) continues to frame reactive positioning against any single-session gap through the multi-catalyst window. Note: the data drop Fear & Greed reading of 69 “Greed” reflects the CNN endpoint falling back to the crypto Fear-and-Greed index; per MacroMicro coverage of the CNN stock-market read, the actual reading sits near approximately 39 “Fear” following three consecutive down sessions and the yield-and-oil compound.
