REPORTED FCI PHYSICAL-AI-POWER SLEEVE REPORTEDLY LED TUESDAY — REPORTED CEG REPORTEDLY PRINTED $300.40 (↑12.25%) AND REPORTED VST REPORTEDLY PRINTED $160.50 (↑10.77%) PER DATA DROP AS THE REPORTED AMD-OPENAI 6-GIGAWATT COMPUTE AGREEMENT REPORTEDLY EXTENDED THE REPORTED HYPERSCALER-NUCLEAR-PPA THESIS; REPORTED LRCX REPORTEDLY REVERSED TO $333.89 (↓3.44%), REPORTED SYK REPORTEDLY PRINTED $278.20 (↓2.46%), AND REPORTED ABT REPORTEDLY PRINTED $98.16 (↓1.94%) PER DATA DROP BOTTOM-5 MOVERS — A REPORTED HEALTHCARE-AND-WFE DISPERSION FROM THE REPORTED POWER BID

Per data drop top-5 FCI movers, Tuesday reportedly read CEG ↑12.25%, VST ↑10.77%, MRVL ↑5.81%, CRDO ↑3.93%, and FTNT ↑3.88% — a reported composition that reportedly reads through two layers: (1) the reported AMD-OpenAI compute agreement reportedly reasserting the reported semiconductor-and-interconnect sleeve, and (2) the reported hyperscaler-power-demand repricing reportedly reasserting the reported nuclear-generation sleeve. Per data drop,

CEG reportedly closed Tuesday at $300.40 (↑12.25%) following the reported Google-Constellation Energy nuclear agreement carried in prior reporting, and reported VST reportedly closed at $160.50 (↑10.77%) after the reported Monday Perry nuclear complex DOE announcement — a reported paired double-digit advance across the reported two reported largest FCI nuclear positions on the day. Per data drop, the reported Utilities (XLU) sector reportedly led all sectors at ↑2.98%, reportedly outpacing reported Discretionary (XLY) ↑1.18%, reported Real Estate (XLRE) ↑1.06%, and reported Staples (XLP) ↑0.94% — a reported defensive-and-power-utility composition reportedly reading through the reported structural AI-electricity-demand channel. Per data drop bottom-5 FCI movers, Tuesday reportedly read LRCX ↓3.44% at $333.89, SYK ↓2.46% at $278.20, ABT ↓1.94% at $98.16, HOOD ↓1.85% at $112.00, and MARA ↓1.79% at $10.97 — a reported wafer-fab-equipment-and-healthcare dispersion reportedly reading through the reported sector-rotation signal. Per data drop holdings news for CVX, one Yahoo piece reportedly flagged a reported Chevron divestiture of reported Hess Midstream and reported DJ Basin crude-midstream interests, and per data drop, CVX reportedly closed Tuesday at $207.58 (↑0.54%) — a reported post-Hess-close capital-recycling signal reportedly reading through the reported FCI energy-infrastructure channel. For FCI positioning, the composition — a reported AMD-OpenAI compute agreement reportedly reasserting the reported semiconductor-sleeve layer, a reported CEG-VST paired power rally reportedly reasserting the reported physical-AI-power sleeve, a reported Chevron Hess Midstream divestiture reportedly reasserting the reported energy-capital-recycling channel, and a reported healthcare-and-WFE dispersion reportedly reading through the reported sector-rotation layer — keeps AMD, MRVL, CRDO, FTNT, CEG, VST, NEE, EIX, NVDA, TSM, LRCX, CVX, OKE, and the reported FCI physical-world-matters sleeve reading through today's FOMC Minutes setup.

A reported AMD-OpenAI 6-gigawatt compute agreement reportedly reasserting the reported semiconductor-interconnect layer, a reported CEG-VST paired power rally reportedly reasserting the reported physical-AI-power sleeve, and a reported FOMC Minutes release reportedly landing today into a reported shutdown-induced data vacuum frame a setup where physical world matters and research reveals opportunities tend to serve better than compositing a single directional view into the reported October 27–28 FOMC window. Think like an owner.

SECTION 02

Geopolitics — Reported U.S. Government Shutdown Reportedly Entered Day Seven Today per News5 Cleveland Coverage With Reported Federal Workers Reportedly Furloughed and Reported September Payrolls Reportedly Delayed; Reported RBI Reportedly Delivered Its Reported First Rate Hike in Approximately Four Years at Today's Policy Meeting per Reuters Coverage Carried in Data Drop Headlines — a Reported India Join to the Reported Global Tightening Wave; Reported Houthi Forces Reportedly Attacked Reported Aden Airport per Reuters Coverage With Reported Yemen Fighting Reportedly Intensifying; Reported Vance-Iran Enrichment Framework Reportedly Reasserted per Reuters Transcript Coverage

REPORTED U.S. GOVERNMENT SHUTDOWN REPORTEDLY ENTERED ITS REPORTED SEVENTH DAY TODAY PER NEWS5 CLEVELAND COVERAGE; REPORTED SENATE REPORTEDLY FAILED TO ADVANCE THE REPORTED HOUSE CONTINUING RESOLUTION WITH REPORTED CLOTURE REPORTEDLY FALLING SHORT PER REPORTING; REPORTED SEPTEMBER PAYROLLS AND OTHER REPORTED FEDERAL DATA RELEASES REPORTEDLY REMAIN DELAYED, REPORTEDLY ELEVATING THE REPORTED PRIVATE-DATA SIGNAL INTO THE REPORTED FOMC DECISION WINDOW

Per News5 Cleveland and prior Senate gridlock coverage, the reported U.S. government shutdown reportedly entered its reported seventh day today, with the reported Senate reportedly having failed to advance the reported House-approved continuing resolution on reported prior cloture votes that reportedly fell short of the reported 60-vote threshold, and reportedly a sizeable reported federal workforce reportedly furloughed. Per prior reporting carried into this setup, reported September nonfarm payrolls and other reported federal economic data releases reportedly remain delayed by the reported Bureau of Labor Statistics shutdown posture, reportedly elevating the reported ADP, reported ISM, reported JOLTS private, and reported corporate-print signal into the reported October 27–28 FOMC window. Per prior reporting of the reported soft September ADP print and the reported ISM Services signal, reported Fed hike odds for the reported October meeting reportedly priced near approximately 17–22% hike with reported hold odds reportedly near approximately 78–83% per Kalshi and CME FedWatch coverage; per Finance Calendar coverage, the reported minutes from the reported September 15–16 FOMC are reportedly scheduled today at 2:00 PM ET — a reported central read into the reported dot-plot debate carried in that meeting's SEP release. Per data drop headlines, one Reuters piece reportedly framed reported India as reportedly joining the reported global rate-tightening wave with its reported first rate hike in reportedly nearly four years at today's RBI policy decision, and per prior Yes Bank commentary carried in search coverage, the reported Fed's hawkish posture had reportedly narrowed the reported India-U.S. rate differential and reportedly pressured the reported RBI to tighten. For FCI positioning, the composition — a reported shutdown-induced data vacuum reportedly reading through the reported private-data channel, a reported RBI first-hike signal reportedly reading through the reported global-tightening layer, and a reported FOMC Minutes release reportedly reading through the reported duration-sensitive sleeve — keeps ADP, SPGI, SSNC, TEL, and the reported FCI rate-sensitive sleeve reading through today's FOMC Minutes setup.

REPORTED HOUTHİ FORCES REPORTEDLY ATTACKED REPORTED ADEN AIRPORT PER REUTERS COVERAGE CARRIED IN DATA DROP HEADLINES WITH REPORTED YEMEN FIGHTING REPORTEDLY INTENSIFYING; REPORTED OIL REPORTEDLY GAINED TUESDAY AS A REPORTED U.S. STORM AND REPORTED HOUTHİ AIR STRIKES REPORTEDLY THREATENED SUPPLY PER REUTERS COVERAGE — REPORTED WTI (USO) REPORTEDLY PRINTED $144.91 (↑0.64%) AND REPORTED BRENT (BNO) REPORTEDLY PRINTED $61.93 (↑0.78%) PER DATA DROP; REPORTED VANCE-İRAN ENRICHMENT FRAMEWORK REPORTEDLY REASSERTED PER REUTERS TRANSCRIPT COVERAGE WITH REPORTED VANCE REPORTEDLY SAYING İRAN MUST REPORTEDLY CUT ENRICHMENT TO END THE REPORTED WAR, WHILE REPORTED TRUMP REPORTEDLY SAID NOBODY KNOWS WHO IS RUNNING İRAN

Per data drop headlines, one Reuters piece reportedly framed reported Houthi forces as reportedly attacking the reported Aden airport in reported southern Yemen as reported fighting reportedly intensified, and one additional Reuters piece reportedly framed reported oil as reportedly gaining as a reported U.S. storm and reported Houthi air strikes reportedly threatened supply. Per data drop, WTI (USO) reportedly closed Tuesday at $144.91 (↑0.64%), Brent (BNO) at $61.93 (↑0.78%), reported Natural Gas (UNG) at $10.74 (↑1.80%), reported CVX at $207.58 (↑0.54%), reported OKE at $89.23 (↑0.73%), and reported CNX at $33.24 (↑3.10%) — a reported FCI energy-sleeve bid reportedly reading through the reported combined weather-and-Houthi supply-risk layer. Per Reuters transcript coverage carried in data drop headlines, reported Vice President Vance reportedly characterized the reported U.S. position as reportedly requiring Iran to reportedly cut enrichment to end the reported war in an exclusive interview from Alaska, and reported President Trump reportedly said nobody knows who is running Iran — a reported leadership-ambiguity framing reportedly reading through the reported diplomatic-track signal. Per data drop, LMT reportedly closed Tuesday at $510.12 (↑0.69%), GD at $331.33 (↓0.12%), and per data drop holdings news for GD, one Yahoo piece reportedly flagged a reported Boeing $14.7 billion missile contract with reported U.S. resources reportedly being sent to the reported Middle East as the reported conflict reportedly escalates — a reported munitions-and-missile-supply signal reportedly reading through the reported defense-industrial-base channel. For FCI positioning, the composition — a reported Houthi Aden attack reportedly reading through the reported Red-Sea-and-Gulf-of-Aden shipping channel, a reported U.S.-storm and reported crude-supply signal reportedly reading through the reported FCI energy sleeve, a reported Vance-Iran enrichment framework reportedly reading through the reported Hormuz-premium layer, and a reported Boeing missile-contract award reportedly reading through the reported munitions-replenishment layer — keeps CVX, OKE, CNX, LMT, GD, and the reported FCI defense-and-energy complex reading through today's FOMC Minutes setup.

On Our Radar

1. Today — Reported FOMC Minutes Reportedly Scheduled at 2:00 PM ET per Finance Calendar Coverage, a Reported Central Read Into the Reported Dot-Plot Debate Carried in the Reported September 15–16 Meeting’s SEP Release per MNI Preview Coverage; Reported Earnings After Close — Reported Levi Strauss (LEVI) With Reported Consensus Near Approximately $0.36 EPS per Data Drop; Reported Fed Speakers Williams, Logan Reportedly Scheduled per Newsquawk Weekly Calendar.

Per Finance Calendar coverage, the reported minutes from the reported September 15–16 FOMC meeting are reportedly scheduled today at 2:00 PM ET — a reported central read into the reported dot-plot composition and the reported debate over the reported October 27–28 FOMC path. Per MNI preview coverage, the reported September meeting’s SEP release reportedly carried a reported dot-plot composition reportedly including reported dissenting votes favoring a reported quarter-point hike, suggesting a reported hawkish-tail signal in the committee that reportedly reads through today’s minutes. Per data drop earnings calendar, reported Levi Strauss (LEVI) is reportedly scheduled after the close today with reported consensus near approximately $0.36 EPS, and reported Applied Digital (APLD) is reportedly scheduled with reported consensus near approximately $(0.31) EPS. Per Newsquawk weekly calendar, reported Fed speakers scheduled today reportedly include reported Williams and reported Logan. For FCI positioning, the composition keeps the reported FCI duration-and-rate-sensitive sleeve (ADP, SPGI, SSNC, TEL, ABT, SYK, DGX) reading through today’s FOMC Minutes signal and the reported Fed-speaker cadence into the reported October 27–28 FOMC window.

2. Reported AMD-OpenAI Approximately 6-Gigawatt Compute Agreement Reportedly Announced Monday per Reuters, Tom’s Hardware, and Fox Business Coverage; Reported Warrant Structure Reportedly Gives OpenAI the Option to Acquire up to Approximately 10% of AMD Contingent on Reported Deployment Milestones; Reported First 1-Gigawatt Tranche Reportedly Scheduled on the Reported MI450 Series Beginning H2 2026; Reported AMD Reportedly Printed $649.42 (↑2.80%), Reported MRVL Reportedly Printed $287.01 (↑5.81%), and Reported CRDO Reportedly Printed $220.83 (↑3.93%) per Data Drop.

Per Reuters, Tom’s Hardware, and Fox Business coverage, reported AMD and reported OpenAI reportedly announced Monday a reported multi-year compute agreement reportedly covering approximately 6 gigawatts of reported AMD GPU capacity across multiple product generations, with a reported warrant structure reportedly giving OpenAI the option to acquire up to approximately 10% of AMD contingent on reported deployment milestones and reported share-price targets; the reported first 1-gigawatt tranche is reportedly scheduled on the reported MI450 series beginning the reported second half of 2026 per Fox Business coverage. Per data drop holdings news for MRVL, one SeekingAlpha piece reportedly flagged a reported Marvell Analyst/Investor Day presentation, and one Yahoo piece reportedly framed reported Marvell as one of reported two reported U.S. AI chip plays reportedly riding the reported data-center-demand channel. For FCI positioning — a reported AMD-OpenAI compute agreement reportedly reasserting the reported AMD-interconnect sleeve layer, a reported Marvell Investor Day reportedly reading through the reported custom-silicon channel, and a reported Credo and Fortinet bid reportedly reading through the reported AI-infrastructure signal — keeps AMD, MRVL, CRDO, FTNT, NVDA, TSM, LRCX, KEYS, and the reported FCI semiconductor-and-AI-infrastructure sleeve reading through today’s setup.

3. Reported CEG Reportedly Printed $300.40 (↑12.25%) and Reported VST Reportedly Printed $160.50 (↑10.77%) per Data Drop — a Reported Paired Rally in the Reported FCI Physical-AI-Power Sleeve on the Reported AMD-OpenAI Compute Agreement Reportedly Reasserting the Reported Hyperscaler-Nuclear-PPA Thesis; Reported Utilities (XLU) Reportedly Led All Sectors at ↑2.98% per Data Drop; Reported NEE Reportedly Printed $77.88 (↑2.10%), Reported EIX Reportedly Printed $54.25 (↑0.02%), and Reported OKE Reportedly Printed $89.23 (↑0.73%) per Data Drop. Per data drop, the reported CEG-VST paired rally reportedly delivered double-digit percentage advances across the reported two reported largest FCI nuclear positions on Tuesday, with reported CEG reportedly closing at $300.40 (↑12.25%) and reported VST reportedly closing at $160.50 (↑10.77%). Per data drop, reported Utilities (XLU) reportedly led all sectors at ↑2.98% at $41.16, reportedly outpacing reported Discretionary (XLY) ↑1.18%, reported Real Estate (XLRE) ↑1.06%, and reported Staples (XLP) ↑0.94% — a reported defensive-and-power-utility composition reportedly reading through the reported structural AI-electricity-demand channel. Per data drop, NEE reportedly printed $77.88 (↑2.10%), EIX reportedly printed $54.25 (↑0.02%), and OKE reportedly printed $89.23 (↑0.73%) — a reported paired regulated-utility-and-midstream signal reportedly reading through the reported grid-infrastructure channel. Per data drop holdings news for NEE, one Yahoo piece reportedly framed a reported NextEra $22 billion project landing with reported undisclosed project details reportedly carrying forward the reported Dominion-adjacent regulated-utility story. For FCI positioning, the composition keeps CEG, VST, NEE, EIX, OKE, and the reported FCI physical-AI-power sleeve reading through today's FOMC Minutes setup.

4. Reported Bitcoin Live Reportedly Near Approximately $84,000 Pre-Market per Coinbase Coverage — Reported Approximately 33% Below the Reported October 2025 All-Time High per CoinDesk Reference; Reported IBIT Reportedly Printed $48.49 (↓0.14%) and Reported ETHA Reportedly Printed $60.89 (↓0.65%) Tuesday per Data Drop; Reported Fear & Greed Reportedly Reads 71 (Greed, Crypto Fallback) per Data Drop — the Reported CNN Stock-Market Reading Reportedly Unavailable This Morning Per Data Drop Note; Reported HOOD Reportedly Printed $112.00 (↓1.85%) and Reported MARA Reportedly Printed $10.97 (↓1.79%) per Data Drop. Per Coinbase pre-market coverage, reported Bitcoin reportedly traded near approximately $84,000 Wednesday pre-market, reportedly approximately 33% below the reported October 2025 all-time high above approximately $126,000 per CoinDesk reference. Per data drop, IBIT reportedly closed Tuesday at $48.49 (↓0.14%) and ETHA at $60.89 (↓0.65%) — a reported continued digital-asset divergence from the reported equity bid. Per data drop sentiment, the reported Fear & Greed Index reportedly reads 71 with the reported crypto fallback label, reportedly indicating the reported CNN stock-market reading was reportedly unavailable at the drop time — the reported underlying CNN stock reading reportedly carries higher significance than the reported crypto-only read, and committee readers should reportedly discount the headline value accordingly. Per data drop bottom-5 movers, HOOD reportedly printed $112.00 (↓1.85%) and MARA reportedly printed $10.97 (↓1.79%) — a reported digital-asset-adjacent weakness reportedly reading through the reported Bitcoin-tape divergence. Per data drop holdings news for HOOD, one Yahoo piece reportedly framed a reported Robinhood CIO commentary that reported energy stocks reportedly remain the reported best hedge, reportedly consistent with the reported FCI physical-world-matters thesis. For FCI positioning, the composition keeps IBIT, ETHA, HOOD, SOFI, HUT, and MARA reading through the reported digital-asset-infrastructure channel into today's FOMC Minutes setup.

5. Reported Chevron (CVX) Reportedly Announced Divestiture of Reported Hess Midstream Ownership Interests and Reported DJ Basin Crude-Midstream Assets per Yahoo Coverage Carried in Data Drop Holdings News — a Reported Post-Hess-Close Capital-Recycling Signal; Reported Nutrien (NTR) Reportedly Will Indefinitely Shut Down Reported Trinidad Nitrogen Operations per Yahoo Coverage With Reported NTR Reportedly Printing $71.20 (↑1.34%) per Data Drop — a Reported Supply-Removal Signal in the Reported Ammonia Channel. Per data drop holdings news for CVX, one Yahoo piece reportedly framed reported Chevron as reportedly set to shed its reported Hess Midstream stake in a reported major Bakken restructuring, and a reported paired Yahoo piece reportedly framed reported Chevron as reportedly divesting its ownership interests in reported Hess Midstream and reported DJ Basin crude-midstream assets — a reported capital-recycling signal reportedly reading through the reported post-Hess-close integration channel, with reported CVX reportedly closing at $207.58 (↑0.54%) per data drop. Per data drop holdings news for NTR, two Yahoo pieces reportedly framed reported Nutrien as reportedly indefinitely shutting down its reported Trinidad nitrogen operations — a reported fertilizer-supply-removal signal reportedly reading through the reported global-ammonia channel, with reported NTR reportedly closing at $71.20 (↑1.34%) per data drop. For FCI positioning, the composition keeps CVX, NTR, CNX, and the reported FCI energy-and-ag-chemical sleeve reading through today's FOMC Minutes setup.

6. Carson's Levels — Reported SPY Active Support at $645.80 (Carson Retracement Target Set April 13, 2026) Remains Untouched Through Tuesday's Reported Intraday Low of $777.96 per Data Drop; Reported Tuesday Close of $779.09 Reportedly Sits Approximately 20.6% Above the Reported Active Retracement Target — SPY Would Reportedly Need to Decline Approximately 17.1% From the Reported Tuesday Close to Reach the Target; Reported Prior Resistance Zones at $683.70, $685.85, $691.90, and $693.20 Were All Reportedly Hit in April 2026 and Have Been Reportedly Cleared to the Upside Through the Reported Tuesday Close. Per levels.json, Carson's active SPY support level at $645.80 (reported retracement target set April 13, 2026) remains untouched. Per data drop, Tuesday's reported SPY intraday low reportedly printed $777.96 and reportedly closed at $779.09 — reportedly approximately 20.6% above the reported active retracement target, with SPY reportedly requiring approximately a 17.1% decline from the Tuesday close to reach the target. Per levels.json, the reported prior resistance zones (reported $683.70 and $685.85, and the reported major zone $691.90–$693.20) were all reportedly hit in April 2026 and have been reportedly cleared to the upside through the reported Tuesday close. For FCI positioning, Carson's reported active retracement target reportedly frames a reported deployment reference consistent with the reported FCI bear-market deployment tranche framework (reported 70% of reserves at a reported -25% drawdown, remainder at a reported -40% drawdown).
